FOREIGN AGENTS MUST NOT INTERFERE

Dismissal of Capt. Boy-Ed and Capt. Von Pappen Merely the First Step in Elimination of Interference.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Dismissal of Captain Boy-Ed, German naval attaché and Capt. Von Pappen, German military attaché of the German embassy here, was admitted today to be simply the first step in the government's effort to eliminate all foreign agents who interfere with American laws or industries.

It has been decided by the administration that hereafter all accredited representatives of foreign governments shall be compelled to stay within the exact limits of American law. Boy-Ed and Von Pappen have been selected as conspicuous examples of the type of foreign agents who were especially obnoxious to the United States. It was again very carefully explained by both the state department and the department of justice that the question of obnoxious conduct was one that this government is permitted to settle upon "information and belief," and that where foreigners are concerned legal evidence against them is not required. Both Boy-Ed and Von Pappen have been told to go. The German ambassador has agreed that they shall be stripped of their official status.

Just who the next officials who will be proceeded against are known only to Secretary Lansing, Attorney General Gregory and President Wilson. Naturally gossip is busy with the names of Austrian Consul-General Von Nuber and other Austrian and German commercial agents whose names have been mentioned in the disclosures made by Dr. Gorlick, a former Austrian consul. It is stated that all of the charges that have lately been filed against consular officials are still under investigation and where confirmation is secured exequaturs will be cancelled and the men either prosecuted under existing laws or expelled from the country.

Just what effect this latest development in the relations between the United States and Germany will have on public feeling in Germany is as yet unknown. Officials say that they expect another wave of anti-American feeling there, but they declare that this has been carefully considered by the president and that in view of his announced policy he has no doubt that the official is a representative of a foreign power who will not recognize American neutrality cannot remain here.

CHESS EXPERTS AT KINGSTON CLUB

The Kingston Club, which has in the past entertained several of the great chess masters, has arranged a unique program for the afternoon and evening of Thursday, Dec. 9. The star attraction will be Boris Kostics of Buda-Pesth, who will undertake to play "blindfold" simultaneously with as many players as the Club can produce. Judging from this wonderful young Hungarian's record, he will either win or draw all the games, since he has lost no game under these conditions during his tour of the United States. Consequently, if one of the Club's players should chance to beat him the fact would be published from New York to San Francisco. For the benefit of those unfamiliar with the subject it may be explained that Mr. Kostics (pronounced Kos-itch, with the last syllable accented) does not actually blindfold himself. He merely has his back to the boards, and moves are given to him by description, he replying in the same way. In ten games there are $90 different squares and pieces to remember and visualize. Mr. Kostics is not only a fancy performer, but in regular games he has few superiors, and in the New York tournament next January he will meet Marshall, Capablanca and other masters on equal terms.

Accompanying Mr. Kostics will be Hartwig Cassel, editor of the American Chess Bulletin and himself a player of renown. He will give a lecture on the openings and the middle game for the purpose of strengthening the play of the beginners in the Club, and which will also be beneficial to the more experienced players.

Twelfth Annual Meeting.

A special meeting of Twelfth Annual Meeting of the Kingston Chess Club will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in their rooms on Dunne street, Wilbur, to arrange for attending the funeral of their foreman, the late Frank A. Quisley.

Entertainment Sunday Night.

The Jewish festival of Chanukah or Feast of Lights, will be appropriately observed in the Temple Emanuel on Sunday night, where an entertainment will be given. A large attendance is expected.

Choir in Caps and Gowns.

At the Sunday evening service in St. Mark's A. M. E. Zion Church the choir will appear for the first time in caps and gowns. The service will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

FORD FOLLOWING SUNBEAM TO END

By Telegram to the Freeman.

New York, Dec. 4.—Mr. Ford slept late today. He was happy when he found the sun shining on arising and said:

"The Lord is with us. He smiles on our peace mission. And we are going to follow up the sunbeam right to the end—peace, nothing is going to stop us."

The pacifist leader who was still in his pajamas when he grasped the hand of the newspaper correspondent, said:

"Everything is all right," said Mr. Ford. "All the passports for our party reached me this morning. They provide only for visits to neutral countries, but that is all that most of the delegates want. For myself, however, I shall go to the countries where I have business in spite of passports."

"Five delegates from our party will be left permanently at the Hague," Mr. Ford received the following telegram from Luther Burbank, the plant wizard of Santa Rosa, Calif., today, who had been invited to join the peace expedition:

"Was away from home when your telegram arrived. Your efforts in posterity as the most humane, the most dramatic and the clearest demonstration of the Christ principle in the history of the planet."

"My heart is with you, but I am not used to cold weather and my life might be snuffed out in the effort if I tried to meet your steamer."

AUSTRALIAN ESTATE AWAITS MASTERSONS

Friday afternoon Mayor Canfield received a letter from Attorney Joseph Gallagher of No. 41 Park Row, New York city, which he turned over to the local police to investigate. The letter states that about seven years ago one Hugh Masterson died in Brisbane, Australia, leaving a considerable estate which he had not disposed of by will. About the year 1864 a James Masterson, a brother of his, lived in Rondout, and the attorney understood that he was married and had children. His cousins in New York city, who are Mr. Gallagher's clients, do not have his address or where he is living. It was likely that Mr. Masterson was dead but it is very probable that some of his children survive him and in that case they are entitled to their father's share in the estate.

An investigation of the records of the local board of health discloses the fact that a John J. Masterson died on October 29, 1906, of heart disease. This man resided on Pine Grove avenue. If any relatives of his reside in Kingston or vicinity they should get in touch with Chief Wood of the local police department or take the matter up with Attorney Gallagher at his New York address.

COMPANY M TO ATTEND SERVICE

Sunday evening a special military and patriotic service will be held in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Wurts street which will be attended by the members of company M in a body. The members of the company are requested to report at the armory in full dress uniform at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening and will proceed to the church from the armory. The chaplain of the Tenth Regiment, the Rev. H. E. Snyder, pastor of the church, will preach and special music will be rendered by the church choir. It is also expected that Old Guard Association will attend and the general public is invited to be present.

GRANGE OFFICERS.

Uster County Pomona Grange Holds Its Biennial Election.

The afternoon session of the Uster County Pomona Grange on Friday was taken up with the conferring of the degree of Pomona in full form and with all the frills on six applicants and the election of officers for the ensuing two years. John E. Kraft was elected worthy master for the fourth consecutive term and the other officers elected were Henry McCormick of New Paltz, overseer; C. E. Davis of Katrine, lecturer; W. D. Tallman of Clintonville, steward; David Kieffer of Katrine, assistant steward; Mrs. C. C. Hardenburgh of Stone Ridge, chaplain; J. A. Heyworth of Marlborough, treasurer; Harold V. Story of Uster Park, secretary; Charles Van Eiten of Lake Katrine, gatekeeper; Mrs. W. D. Tallman of Clintonville, Florio; Mrs. C. O. Smith, Pomona; Mrs. J. W. Alsdorf, Ceres; Miss Arlene Hepworth of Marlborough, lady assistant steward; C. C. Hardenburgh of Stone Ridge, Mrs. Florence Soule of Plattekill, Henry McCormick of New Paltz and Mrs. Edward Young of Milton, delegates to the State Grange which meets in February in Jamestown. C. Barnes of New Paltz was recommended for county deputy.

The next meeting will be held on the first Friday in March at Lake Katrine.

DISEASE FOSTERED BY UNCLEAN HOUSES

Only a Small Minority of Tuberculous Cases Found by Miss Betz Had Been Reported—Surroundings That Aid the Disease.

The meeting of the executive committee of the Ulster County Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis which was held on Friday afternoon at the office of the secretary, Dr. Mary Gage-Day, was one of unusual interest and importance. Reports were heard from both Miss Betz, the investigating tuberculosis nurse, and from Mr. Avery, who has charge of the Red Cross Christmas seal sale in the county. As the result of these two reports, the council decided to continue the services of Miss Betz, the special tuberculosis nurse.

The Hon. Joseph M. Fowler, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting, and following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, by Dr. Day Miss Betz was heard from. Only a few towns in the county remain to be visited by her, so that he following report covered practically all of Ulster county:

During the past two months I have investigated over 2,500 houses; interviewed 54 different physicians and health officers; 26 clergymen; 12 registrars of vital statistics and 14 schools.

When you realize the train accommodation and the large territory that Ulster county covers; also the distance that some of the cases are apart, you will appreciate the fact that it takes time and money as well as hard work to accomplish what has already been done. Furthermore when you realize that each town has an individual committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis, you will appreciate the discouragement following the failure to come across anyone who seemed to know of any active work being done. There seems to be a great lack of interest, or I might better say of understanding in regard to this disease.

The youngest case I found was that of a child one year old, whose mother was a far advanced case. The oldest case was that of a patient 78 years old. In her family at present are four positive cases, living in two different houses. A small child 12 years old lives with the old lady.

A great many cases are found in unclean houses. They will have no windows open. The weather is cold now, and a great many have insufficient clothing and bedding. A great deal could be accomplished if some of these cases could be visited again. I found in a few cases where I called the second time that the people were more willing to tell me of their difficulties. Around Ellenville the boarding houses are in a frightful condition. It is almost impossible to get information from these people.

It takes some little time to keep records of all these cases. So when you see me some days in Kingston, I hope that you will realize that I am writing up records.

There occasionally arises a case where something must be done at once, there being such a case now in hand.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) L. C. BETZ

This formal report was supplemented with a description of certain specific cases. One was that of a family in which the father had died of tuberculosis about a year ago. The oldest daughter, about 17 years of age, had a positive and quite advanced case herself. There were other children, and the mother, a college graduate, seemed absolutely incompetent to cope with the situation or keeping the home even decent, let alone the caring for the girl and the other children. It was hoped that with the aid of the county agent for the care of dependent children, to remedy the situation. Miss Betz was asked why more patients had not been persuaded to go to the county hospital, and said that the ignorance of both the people themselves and of many of the county practitioners, who told patients that there was no need of their doing so, was largely responsible for such a state of affairs. Many present cases could be helped and made more comfortable and less of a danger to the community by a return of the nurse, and such return visits would undoubtedly finally result in the bringing of many more cases to the hospital.

Mr. Avery then gave a detailed account of the Christmas seal campaign up to date, which was both gratifying and surprising. As the result of letters sent out, personal canvass by Mr. Avery and a few perfectly good pledges, about $775 has already been turned in, and this has nothing to do with the work of the various agents in the county. But, judging from the requests for additional seals, some of the county towns have already gone quite ahead of their past records. Unquestionably, this is due in part to Miss Betz's visits and her published reports. Once this county is aroused to its danger, the prospects will be bright for live remedial efforts on the part of all. After talking over these two reports it was unanimously decided that the committee should continue Miss Betz's services as special tuberculosis nurse, and the more urgent cases will be revisited, and the very few unvisited towns covered in the near future.

Dr. Day reported a Christmas gift for the tuberculosis hospital of $70 from Mrs. Luke Noone. The next thing then adjourned.

MME BAKHMETEFF

WIFE OF RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR SAID TO HAVE BALKED BOMB PLOT.

New York, Dec. 4.—The Providence Journal which has brought forth a number of startling statements implicating Austrian consular agents with plots against American munition factories and ships, has published a story implicating C. C. Crowley, arrested in San Francisco, for complicity in explosions on the Pacific coast, and said to have admitted that he was employed by Austrian Consul officials, with a plot to ship cases of dried fruit, laden with bombs on steamers trading between Tacoma and Vladivostok.

According to the story Crowley applied to Mme. Bakhmeteff, wife of the Russian Ambassador to Washington, for credentials to present free of charge, several cases of fruit to the Russian Red Cross. Crowley is said to have represented himself as an agent of fruit growers.

It is said that Mme. Bakhmeteff, who is a prominent member of the Russian Red Cross, detected the possibilities for mischief in such a plan and refused to present Crowley with any credentials.

WILSON-GALT WEDDING DEC. 18

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 4.—It was officially announced at the White House today that President Wilson and Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt will be married on Saturday, December 18. As previously stated, the ceremony will take place at Mrs. Galt's home at 1308 Twentieth Street, N. W.

DENY APPEAL IN CASE OF DRAPER

The appellate division, third department, Friday, handed down a decision denying the application of Harold D. Alexander, district attorney of Albany county, for permission to take an appeal to the court of appeals from the court's reversal of the conviction of Clifton C. Draper. Draper was convicted of attempting to induce two young girls of Kingston to lead immoral lives and was sentenced to Clinton prison by Judge Adair in the Albany county court. The appellate division reversed on the application of Charles B. Templeton the conviction after Draper had served one year of his term and dismissed the indictment.

Mr. Alexander made an application to have the judgment modified to permit him to appeal to the highest court on the question of law, which was denied at the September term. The same application was again made at the last term with the same result. Justice Howard dissented in the opinion and Justice Cochrane did not vote.

Draper has since been indicted on another charge made by one of the girls and is waiting trial.

Ordered Up For Examination.

Sergeant Rudolph Dittus of Company M has received word to attend an examination to be held at Albany this evening by the examining board of which Major Taylor is chairman. Sergeant Dittus was recently elected first lieutenant of Company M and it is necessary that he take this examination before receiving his commission.

CONSPIRATORS ARE SENT TO PRISON

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 4.—All the convicted officials of the Hamburg-American steamship line who were found guilty of conspiracy against the United States government, were today sentenced to prison terms in Atlanta. The sentences were:

Dr. Karl Bueh, managing director, one year and six months.

Adolph Hachmeister, purchasing agent, one year and six months.

Joseph Poeppelhaus, supercargo, one year and one day.

George Koetter, supervising engineer, one year and six months.

The Hamburg-American line was fined $1.

The men were brought before Federal Judge Howe this morning for sentence. In fining the company $1, the judge said "the less odor about money in this case the better."

BUTTERFLY BALL A PLACE TO DANCE

Multitude of Attractive Features Should Not be Permitted to Distract Attention From the Fact that it is Primarily a Dance.

So much has been said of the wonderful entertainment to be seen at the armory next Thursday night that the fact must not be lost sight of that the Butterfly Ball is primarily a ball. As soon as the program is over, at 10 o'clock the chairs at the ends of the hall will be removed and the ball proper will open in a setting more beautiful than has ever been seen in Kingston.

The bare brick walls of the drill hall, where nothing heretofore has blossomed but the stars and stripes, will be hidden under masses of apple blossoms and dogwood. Banks of tulips and jonquils will decorate the railings of the private boxes. Muller's orchestra will play behind a screen of beautiful hollyhocks, huge evergreen trees will stand sentinel-like in the corners, and the air will be filled with wonderful flights of butterflies circling about the lights, swinging from the girders and fluttering over the dancers.

The women of Kingston have done an inconceivable amount of work for these decorations. Almost every club in the city has taken part in this work for the city hospital. Butterflies and paper flowers are pouring into the armory by the hundred, not only from Kingston but from the surrounding smaller towns. The interest and enthusiasm has spread throughout the county. It is doubtful whether ever before in this city there has been such universal readiness to enter into a public affair and help to make it a success. The result will well repay the workers, and those who fail to see the armory in its beauty and splendor on Thursday night will never cease to regret it.

The Ulster County Garden Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward Coykendall and Mrs. George Washburn, has had the general character of the decorations. Their work received a wonderful impetus through the generosity of Martin Cantine whose company in Saugerties contributed all the crepe and tissue paper for the flowers. The magnitude of this gift cannot be realized until the completed decorations are seen in place.

The Garden Club is happy to announce that Samuel F. Page, of the well known firm of architects, Felmer and Page of Boston will arrive in Kingston on Sunday and direct the artistic placing of the decorations. Mr. Page is known throughout Massachusetts as an artist and architect and is an authority on interior decorating. He is giving his services to this good cause, and his presence will assure the artistic success of the Butterfly Ball.

Clear $147 From Dinner.

The trustees and Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian Church cleared $147 from their annual turkey dinner on Nov. 10.

Worth Practicing.

Rigid Durability Added Attractiveness

These unusual and desirable qualities have been achieved in

STERN'S KEELock

The mounting is locked into the lens and held with cement. A 57 pound weight will not separate them. The old screw that needs constant adjusting and the drilled hole that weakens the lens are done away with. STERN'S KEELock mountings are less conspicuous in appearance, besides being neater, stronger and sturdier than the hole and screw type.

Let us demonstrate the many advantages of this modern mounting.

KINGSTON HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Over a hundred aspirants for places on the high school basketball team responded to Coach Shumaker's call for candidates and practice will be started next week. The weeding-out process will be a difficult task, but after the large number of basketball hoppers has been reduced to a squad easily managed there will be several squads practicing. The varsity squad, about ten in number, will drill three nights a week after supper while other squads will have the benefit of the gym Monday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

In this way no member of the varsity will ever be justified in thinking that he is sure of his job. Ambitious players on the other squads will be hustling to fill his shoes if there is any flaw in his playing.

It is a pretty sure fact that a speedy five will be turned out of the school. Nearly the whole football eleven are enrolled as candidates for the basketball team.

Girls' Basketball.

The maidens have been practicing the indoor sport for the last three weeks in the Holy Cross parish house. Miss Siegle explained the scientific points of the game. The fair ones have been drilling hard and a successful season is in store for them. The team has not yet organized. Hereafter, the seniors and juniors will occupy the gymnasium Tuesday afternoons while the underclassmen will have the privilege on Wednesdays. Last night the G. A. A. gave a dance in the gym, which was successful socially and financially.

Office-Holding Restricted.

The faculty has decided that there shall be no ambitious Caesars in high school organizations. A student can hold but one office in any of the many school societies or teams. This radical change hits the popular ones pretty hard but the advantages of the ruling are seen at a glance. It not only gives more students a chance at the office-holding job but will result in more concentration in an association or team than would be the case if the same person was on the office list of several organizations. A student-officer must have a schedule of at least fifteen recitations a week, the same as the athletic teams.

Student Council Election.

Interest is at a high pitch concerning the election of members of the Student Council, the election occurring Tuesday morning. In Hall A the voting will be done Monday morning.

Entertainment Committee.

The avalanche of entertainments that will probably be given during the coming season has prompted Mr. Moulton to appoint an entertainment committee of teachers, the duty of which will be to lead a guiding hand to the young generation in their social endeavors.

Shortening the Year.

It is almost a certainty that a majority of the parents will consent to the proposition of shortening the noon intermission from an hour and a quarter to a half hour. A strong argument for the affirmative is that the newly constructed lunch room will furnish tempting and nutritious dishes at cost. The various products of culinary skill in the domestic science department that have been sold have been quickly disposed of and the lucky purchasers are warm in their praise of Kingston girls' cooking abilities.

If the noon-hour proposition goes into effect the school will be dismissed at 2:45. Doubtful parents should observe this fact and consider the extra minutes the young son may spend at the wood pile or the opportunity the domestic sciences will have in putting into practical use the theories learned at the knowledge factory on Broadway. Then, too, the teachers need not be tardy at the meetings of the various reading circles or literary societies.

Under the existing conditions the students that bring their lunches do dinner of three things: dance in the gymnasium, if they happen to be girls, take deep breaths of the invigorating atmosphere that hangs around Broadway, or study. This last seems to be the least popular.

Camp Fire Girls.

The Camp Fire Girls, with Miss Somes as guardian, have not been in the limelight, but are doing good work in learning the beauty of nature and trying to impart that valuable knowledge to others. These girls form a small band, but are desirous of adding to their number others who wish to spend few minutes a week in their interesting work. Cheering the hearts of hospital unfortunates is in their line of charity and they are busy making dolls and attractive presents for children that must spend their Christmas in hospital wards.

The Waryawack Council of the Camp Fire Girls are: Ethel Port, Vera and Vera Merkle, Anna Caster, Eva Jungquist, Anna Rafferty, Louise Schwab, Ruby Markson, Dorothy Dangremond, Ella Kleim, Jessie Stern, Lillian Marchio, Anita Van Bramer, Viola Kukuk.

Debating Club.

Hudson, Ellenville, Schenectady, and Poughkeepsie have accepted the challenge of the high school debating club, but a debate with only the last named has been arranged. The members of the varsity team will soon be chosen and the calibre of the debaters in the preliminary debates predicts a strong aggregation before the footlights.

The debaters deserve to be given a "K" in our estimation. We think that a debate and all the preparation attached to it causes enough mental agony to warrant the presentation of a suitable token of appreciation by the high school students. It requires a big heap of good solid thinking to locate a convenient sized hole in the floor, dig your toe into it and then, with unerring knees, face an audience with elongated faces like college professors, and try to prevent their sailing away into dreamland.

The male members of the Glee Club led their first rehearsal Friday. The girls meet every Monday. Dame Rumor says that minstrels and a mock trial will be given in the auditorium in the future.

TICKING OF METER SOOTHING LULLABY

Dr. Chandler Recommends It as a Soporific and Gives Testimony to Its Effectiveness—New Inspector to Make House to House Canvass.

The board of water commissioners met Friday afternoon at the city hall with all members present and several important matters were taken up, among them the matter of a special new inspection and the employing of another inspector. The monthly bills were audited and other routine business transacted.

On report of Superintendent Harrison the matter of extending the water main on the Boulevard was discussed. Mr. Harrison reported the distance of extension as approximately 620 feet. Nine householders have petitioned the board for an extension, three now have private mains. This section of the city is rapidly building up and several bungalows are to be erected in a short time. Commissioners Roach and Chandler, committee on extensions and improvements, reported favorably on the proposed extension and the board ordered Superintendent Harrison to begin work as soon as possible. The main in this section is a four inch pipe and the extension will be the same size.

The committee on revised rates were given rates of a number of cities in the state and rates from fifteen cities in all will be received by Mayor Canfield and from these the board will be able to take a fair average in making new rates for Kingston. From the number of reports now on hand Kingston's present rates seem to be about the average.

Commissioner Canfield asked that a meter be installed in his store on The Strand and after a discussion the board ordered the meter installed. Dr. Chandler, who had a meter installed in his residence a short time ago, urged Mr. Canfield to install a meter. Dr. Chandler said he would not be without a meter, for after being out attending to the sick, he came home and was lulled to sleep by the faithful, ever present ticking of his water meter. For the large consumer of water the installation of a meter is the way to settle the water question.

The matter of a building on Pine Grove avenue which had been using water for several years without being charged for was taken up and the board decided to render bills for the amount which should have been paid for this period.

The second payment was ordered made on the new heating plant installed in the filter house by the B. Loughran Company. The heating plant is in operation and has taken a great deal of work off the hands of the men employed at the filter house.

The property owners near Clifton avenue along Florence, Stephen and Lincoln streets had applied for water as soon as the streets had been graded and the commissioners had granted the request. The work of grading has been completed and the commissioners decided to make good their promise. Superintendent Harrison proposed a scheme to furnish these streets with water and at the same time increase the supply of water on the high points of the city near the alms house and Chester street. He was ordered to begin the work immediately. People who live in this section are compelled to carry water at present.

Edgar Holstein, the only man on the eligible list as a result of the recent civil service examination for inspector of the department, was employed at a salary of $75 a month to make an inspection with Inspector O'Neil and also to read the water meters in use, there being no man at present who was responsible for the reading of meters. The present inspector is unable to attend properly to this with his other work. Mr. Holstein is a plumber and a practical workman.

The matter of a special inspection was talked over and as soon as possible the inspectors will begin a new house to house canvass of the city to ascertain the correct number of fixtures in every building. At present there are undoubtedly many fixtures which should be charged and have not been paying rent.

Mr. Waters who has been paying $125 for the privilege of filling a pond was granted the privilege to use the water for a sum of $100 to fill the pond.

The board then adjourned.

His Handicap.
"As I was engaged in the very disagreeable and undignified task of splitting up some hickory knots yesterday," related Jay B. Ide, the poet "a wayfarer came along and offered to relieve me of the job in return for a pair of my old trousers. Unfortunately, I had them on at the time and he reading circle was convening in no house. On that account I was unable to avail myself of his kind offer."—Kansas City Star.

The Heart Lived In.
Faber has said, "A man's heart gets big if he does not keep it warm by living in it." Love to others is not a matter of mere outflowing impulse. It must be purposeful and steadfast if there is to be real warmth in it. Only the heart that is lived in and used draws others close to its hearth fire.—Selected.

COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETING

The annual meeting of the Medical Society of the County of Ulster, which was organized in the year 1896, will be held in the Mitchell House on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. A dinner will precede the business. The program will be as follows:

Business Session.
Election of officers.
Election of new members.
Dr. Elias G. Brown of Allaben, Dr. Jonathan T. Male of New Paltz, and Dr. Cyrus Rexford Baker of Kingston have been recommended for membership by the censors. Yearly report of secretary and treasurer.
Routine business.

Scientific Session.

FOR THE UNFORTUNATES.

Fine Recital in Aid of the Tuberculosis Hospital.

In addition to the violin selections to be played by Ford Hummel at the musical recital to be given at Holy Cross Church on Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the Tuberculosis Hospital entertainment fund, will be the following vocal numbers to be sung by Mrs. Coerr: "He Shall Feed the Flock" by Handel and "Elizabeth's Prayer," by Wagner. The organ numbers will be, "Harvest Thanksgiving March," by Batiste Calkin, "Melody in G," by Guilman; "Bridal Song," by Jensen; "Andante," by Vely; "Duetto," by Blagini; and "Marche Pontificale," (from the Sonata Pontificale), by Lemmens, played by Mr. Taylor, organist of the church. "Marche Religieuse," by Adolphe Adam, "Communion in E Minor," by Batiste, by Miss Marchant, and "Military Symphony," (Andantino, Adagio, Allegro), by Haydn, played by Miss Marchant and Mr. Taylor. While a silver collection will be taken up for the fund, any one wishing to make special contributions for the cause may give them to Mrs. C. N. Reed, at the recital, or send them to her, as she is in charge of this particular work for the hospital.

Winning an Autograph.

Like Iudyard Kipling, the famous novelist, Hall Caine has a great dislike for the autograph "fend," and he has to be a clever collector who can get the signature of the author of "The Manxman."

On one occasion, however, Mr. Hall Caine was beaten by a very smart trick. While on a visit to America he was besieged by autograph hunters, but he refused them all. Then one day a porter at his hotel brought him a registered letter. He was asked to sign a receipt, and was then informed that he must sign a second paper which had to be returned to the sender of the letter.

Quite unused to American ways, he did so, and when he opened the letter, after the porter had retired, his astonishment may be imagined when he found that it contained nothing but a note of thanks for his autograph, which he had of course appended to the paper!—Pearson's.

Expense Didn't Bother Him.

That the East Indian of wealth is a luxury loving individual and cares no more for his rupees than does the Pittsburgh millionaire for dollars when entertaining is shown by the following example:

One afternoon an Indian gentleman, clad in modern English garments, entered the salesroom of an automobile firm in Calcutta. The visitor was met by the salesman, who proceeded to explain the various good points of five electric vehicles on exhibition. The Indian stopped him with a wave of his stick and said:

"Send them to my palace at once."

"Which ones?" asked the surprised salesman.

"All of them," was the answer. The purchaser was the nizam of Hyderabad, and the above incident is related by T. K. Stuart, an American electrical engineer, who knows India by heart from long experience.

Seed Well Preserved.

The Man's Christmas Gift

It is not such a hard matter for a woman to choose a suitable gift for a man as some imagine. Men's tastes run pretty much in grooves—men's goods are well standardized.

Certain brands carry their hallmark of character and quality to the masculine mind, because made familiar by advertising.

The advertising in The Freeman will be particularly helpful in guiding our steps in the right direction.

And a good time to reach a settlement of this little holiday problem is NOW.

FUJI ADAMSON.

WILL PROVE HEREDITY AND ENVIRONMENT THEORY WITH LITTLE JAP GIRL.

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—Mrs. William B. Beader Adamson, wife of a wealthy manufacturer, who lives in the exclusive Villanova section on the Main Line, has a theory that environment is stronger than heredity and is attempting to prove it with a wee Japanese tot which she has adopted.

Little Fuji Adamson is but four years of age and was born at Stoke Hall, the Adamson estate, where her father was a gardener. Her own father and mother have bought a little farm in New Jersey. Fuji knows no other parents but Mr. and Mrs. Adamson and it is expected she will remain with them until her twenty-first birthday, when she will be allowed to choose her own life.

Part of Mrs. Adamson's theory is that even a supposedly stolid Japanese will become as vivacious as any other child if brought up in a non-Japanese home. The transplanted "Wisteria Blossom," for that is what Fuji means, doesn't even know she is Japanese.

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 4, 1915.

Because of its charter, the New York Central Railroad Company is debarred from charging more than two cents a mile for carrying passengers between Albany and Buffalo, but there is no legal obstacle to its collecting a half cent more a mile between New York city and Albany and intermediate points if consent to the increase, which has been asked for, is granted by the Public Service Commission. It is rather remarkable that the people of the Hudson River region after so many years of two-cent fares and so notable a development of transportation facilities on the river should be threatened with this increase in rates. If the advance is made, the steamboats will be made more use of and the railroads may lose more than they gain.

No reasonable person can quarrel with the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Minnesota rate case, in which it was held that "the passenger and freight business should carry its share of the railroad burden," and the Central company has cited this in its application. The argument would be stronger but for the fact that the railroad proposes to continue existing rates within a forty-mile zone, in which the "commuters" live. Time and again railroad officials have declared this traffic to be unprofitable, although carried on at cut rates, and now it is proposed in substance to make the payers of regular fare contribute enough to even up the accounts of the commuters. The inevitable effect of this is, of course, to intensify the already great congestion in the metropolis, at the same time retarding the growth of cities like Kingston. If people who work in New York had to pay their way like other people it would become advantageous to manufacturers to move some of their plants elsewhere, and we would get our share. As it is, we have a prospect of being compelled to pay the cost of New York in getting business which belongs to us. It is something like the situation in Belgium.

The dismissal of the German emissaries, Boy-Ed and Von Papen, following after too long an interval the departure of Dr. Dernburg, indicates that eventually our country may get rid of all the foreign plotters who have been trying to destroy the neutrality of the United States and make it a sort of German auxiliary. It is given out unofficially that a whole flock of these abusers of our hospitality will get their walking papers. This method of cleaning house is good so far as it goes, but the fact should not be overlooked that both Boy-Ed and Von Papen have given out interviews in which they declare that they have merely obeyed orders. It is difficult to understand how we can kick out the agents and still retain cordial diplomatic relations with the principals. There has been too much milk-and-water about the Administration's policy. It is about seven months now since assassins sunk the Lusitania, and Germany has not yet disavowed the act nor consented to make reparation in any way. If Wilson is trying to make votes, which seems to be the only plausible explanation of his conduct, he is following the wrong tactics.

Since Governor-General Harrison assumed charge in the Philippines early in the year 1913, 416 Americans, all with satisfactory official records, have been supplanted by natives in administrative offices, and a reorganization of the judiciary to provide more places for Filipinos has been effected. Gov. Harrison, without direction from Congress but taking his cue from Democratic politicians uninformed of conditions on the islands, is going as far as he can to give the Filipinos self-government. An effect of this has been the encouragement of scheming and plotting by ambitious but more or less ignorant and unscrupulous native politicians, who if they gain the upper hand will undo much of the good work accomplished under previous administrations. The people of the Philippines are not fitted to control their affairs. Under Taft and his immediate successors they were being educated gradually for self-government, when the Democrats came into power in Washington, and a policy since has been pursued which threatens disaster. Unless there is a reversal, the United States soon may be face to face with an acute Philippine trouble, the end of which it would be difficult to predict.

The slippery condition of some of the state highways following their resurfacing received the attention of the Pomona Grange at its meeting here on Friday, and an effort is to be made to secure a change in the method of treating roads to the end that a firmer footing for horses shall be afforded. It is suspected that the state highway authorities have been so intent on developing and perfecting the bituminous macadam roadway that they have not given the attention deserved to the two distinct classes of traffic for which the good roads have been built. Apparently they have aimed at a satisfactory surface for motor vehicles and assumed it would be satisfactory also for horse-drawn vehicles without going into the question of how the horses actually fared on roads extremely hard and smooth. Roads can be made—many of them have been made—almost equally satisfactory to motorists and drivers of horses, and it will not be difficult for the highway department to make conditions generally such as to obviate to a large extent the complaints of farmers. The use of screenings, when tar or asphalt is applied, as suggested by The Freeman for the Ashokan boulevard, would provide a surface on which horses could keep their footing and motorists their traction. Unless something is done farmers may adopt a non-skid horseshoe which will ruin the roads in a short time.

If this antiseptic, peroxide, individual drinking cup cycle continues there is no telling where it will end. While I was playing in New York city recently, the run was getting on my nerves. And when that happens I attempt to distract myself by doing the unusual.

On one particular Sunday night I remember I went with my husband to see good, old Coney Island, and was as foolish as I could be, that is, of course, within the limits which ought to hold any of us girls.

Mr. Elsie (my husband) and I entered the "Honey-moon Express" at Luna Park, and were taking it seriously until we heard the male member of the couple behind us say:

"Kiss me, dear, I'm sterilized."—Buffalo Express.

No Naughty Words for Him.

Edmund has just begun to attend the public school and had found a new friend, a child of whom Edmund's mother had never heard.

"Who is this Walter?" she asked. "Is he a nice little boy?"

"Yes, ma'am, he is," replied Edmund enthusiastically.

"Does he use any naughty words?" pursued his mother.

"No," replied Edmund, with emphasis, "and I'm not going to teach him any."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Long Arm.

William Travers Jerome, the New York lawyer, said of a certain charge the other day:

"It was a coincidence, a strong coincidence, an almost incredible coincidence like the stutterer's tale, you know."

"B-bring me a p-plate of b-beef."

"The waiter, who also stuttered, answered:

"W-waiter out of b-b-beef, sir."

Well, one said to the other: "Which come first Rouschshauer or Yom Kippur?" "And the other answered: 'I don't know, I didn't go to the track today.'" — Albany Knickerbocker Press.

St. John's Church Notes.
 The Men's Club of St. John's Church recently heard an unusually instructive lecture by one of its members, Lieut. George Mullier, retired U. S. A. The subject chosen, "Recollections of the Years 1872-76—at the Standing Rock Agency," brought before the members the Sioux Indians and his allies. Lieut. Mullier explained the training of the Indians—the sun dance, the morals of the Indian, and some brushes of the army and the Indians, culminating with General Custer's massacre. It was a notable lecture among others ever held in the parish house.

The Episcopal Club is preparing a play, "The Cross Moved Westward," which will be produced at the Christmas festival for the Sunday school.

It may even provoke profanity.
 One thing it certainly does do, and that is: digs into your pocket book to keep it fed up on the coal it needs.
 Now it's easy enough to claim that this Kingstonian Boiler burns less coal than any other. But to prove it is quite another thing.

It's this very quite-another-thing that we want the chance to prove to you.
 Will you give us that chance?

BILLS OF ELECTION OFFICIALS AUDITED

Council Orders Warrants Drawn For $2,587—Committee Reports That Impairment of Lights Appears to Meet Contract Requirements—Delinquents Notified to Appear.

The election officials of the city were made happy on Friday evening when the common council audited their bills for services during the recent election amounting to $2,587, and ordered warrants drawn in payment for same. The city fathers also transacted considerable business in a brief session presided over by President Connelly with Aldermen Smith, McKinnick, Schick, Schlip, Leverich, Mitchell, Kirchner, Martin and Jaks present. The absentees were Aldermen McCullough, Moyle and Myers.

A requisition from the janitor of the city hall was referred to the supply committee. Bills and claims against the city were read and referred to the auditing committee who later reported it had audited the street department pay roll for the two weeks from November 14 to 27 amounting to $3,066.48 and the city engineer's payroll amounting to $70 and warrants were ordered drawn in payment of same.

A Committee Reports.

The committee on testing the arc lights in the city for the purpose of ascertaining if the city was getting the proper current as provided in the contract between the city and the Kingston Gas & Electric Company made its report at the meeting. A short time ago Alderman Martin introduced a resolution in which he set forth that the arc lights should be tested to see if the city was getting its money's worth and a committee consisting of Aldermen Kirchner, Schlip and Smith were appointed.

In the committee's report it was stated that if the city hired or retained an expert to make the test it would probably cost upwards of $200 and that there are no funds on hand at this time for such purposes. The report stated that the electric company maintains at its plant an instrument called the rectifier on each of the ten public lighting circuits which measures and indicates the intensity of the current.

The committee visited the plant without giving the company notice of their intention and found that the rectifiers indicated an amperage equal to the contracted amperage. In closing the committee called attention to the fact that the first of the year the board of public works will have control over the public lighting and that any action taken by the common council could not be followed up by any further action at that time. The report was filed.

Will Be Notified to Appear.

Street superintendent Van Aesuren submitted a report of delinquents who had failed to pay for work done by the street department. Last winter the delinquents were notified to remove the snow and ice from their sidewalks and had not done so and the street department had done the work.

The properties were located at 143-147 Pearl street; 108-120 Grand street, and 275-287 Fair street, and the bills for work done ranged from twenty-five cents to $1.33.

The street superintendent also reported that he had laid fifty feet of flagging in front of the property of George Moxon at No. 401 Hasbrouck avenue, and that the owner had failed to pay the bill of $55.

Alderman McKinnick's motion that the clerk notify all delinquents to be present at the next meeting and show cause why the work should not be paid for and that the report be laid over until then was unanimously carried.

Wants Bills Collected.

The water board also submitted a list of delinquents who had failed to pay their water taxes, but the report was referred to the mayor and corporation counsel as some of the members of the council did not think that they should act as a sort of collection agency for the water department.

Sewer Assessment.

City Assessor Block filed a certificate of 75 per cent of the cost of the construction of the Hemlock avenue and Van Gaasbeek street sanitary sewer amounting to $699.08 and Alderman Schick offered a resolution that the amount be certified and warrants for its collection issued, which was carried.

Needed Improvements.

Alderman Mitchell introduced a resolution that the street superintendent and city engineer act with him and report on the East Pierpoint street grade at the next meeting. In explaining the resolution the alderman said that the crown of the street should be cut down as it was so high that during a heavy rain fall the cellars of the residents were flooded with water. At the foot of the hill was a blacksmith shop and during a recent rain storm the water rose to such a height that it put out the fire under the forge in the shop.

The resolution was referred as requested.

Alderman Mitchell also introduced a resolution that a gutter be placed in front of the residence of Mrs. Webster, Jr., corner of Stuyvesant street and Broadway. The alderman said that there was no gutter there and that during a heavy rain fall the water running down the Broadway hill at that point ran over the sidewalk and flooded the residence. The resolution was referred to the street superintendent with power.

Mitchell Accepted on Conditions.

Alderman Smith introduced a resolution that an arc light be placed on the corner of North Front street and Clinton street and the present incandescent light removed. In explaining the resolution the alderman said there was considerable traffic at that point and there should be more light.

Alderman Mitchell said he was willing to vote in favor of the resolution if the incandescent light when it was removed be placed in front of the residence of Allen Delamater on the High Road, and he also introduced a resolution to that effect.

Both motions when put to a vote were carried and the work ordered done at once.

The council then adjourned.

DON JAIME OF BOURBON.

SPANISH PRETENDER CAPTURED BY AUSTRIANS.

Paris, Dec. 4.—The Journal says Don Jaime of Bourbon, pretender to the Spanish throne, has again been arrested in Austria.

According to this account Don Jaime, who has been living in Italy, requested permission of Emperor Franz Joseph to visit his estate at Frohsdorf, Austria.

It is said he was informed he might travel freely anywhere in Austria, but that the day after his arrival at Frohsdorf he was placed under arrest, to be held in restraint until the end of the war. He has been informed, the story adds, that any officer who visits him will be dismissed immediately from the army.

Don Jaime was arrested at Frohsdorf last year for addressing to his partisans an appeal to side with France in the war. He was released on condition that he leave the country.

Sunday Y. M. C. A. Meeting

Dillon Wallace of Beacon will address the first of a series of meetings for men at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Wallace is well known as a Labrador explorer and in 1890 he was looking for an unknown river when he and his companion were given up as lost during their expedition, but were finally found. He passed through all kinds of hardships having to live even on the hoofs of horses and snore strings and his partner died of starvation. The next year Mr. Wallace went back and discovered the river. He is also a naturalist and is well known among the boys as a leader of Boy Scouts and he spends much time during the summer visiting Y. M. C. A. boys summer camps. His subject Sunday will be "The Great Evangelistic Campaign at Beacon." Before Mr. Wallace speaks there will be a half hour musical program rendered in the association parlors from 3 to 3:30 o'clock. All men are welcome.

Reilly Ill In Bellevue.

Late Friday the local police received a telegram from Inspector J. A. Faurot of the detective bureau of New York city stating: "Notified friends of Joseph Reilly, contractor, 39 years old, claiming Kingston as his residence, no address or street given, is sick in Bellevue Hospital." Chief Wood said this morning that so far they have been unable to find anyone who knows of the man spoken of.

King's Daughters to Meet.

A regular quarterly meeting of the King's Daughters will be held in the Sunday school room of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church on Monday evening at 7:30. This is also the annual meeting and the time for election of officers. All members of the class are urged to make a special effort to be present. After the business meeting, refreshments will be served and a social hour enjoyed.

Muskies' House a Curiosity.

Muskies have built a house right in the center of Borden's ice pond at Walton. The Borden's have turned the water into the pond to let it fill up for cold weather, and as the water increases in depth the muskrats keep building the house higher so as to keep it about two feet above the surface.

Report on Convention.

At the session of St. James's Sunday school Sunday, Reginald Sande and Irving Guttridge, delegates from the St. James Sunday school to the convention of the state P. M. C. A. for boys, will give a report of the doings of that gathering held recently in the city of Rochester.

The Last Harvest.

English service will be held at the Spring Street German Lutheran Church tomorrow evening at 7:30. The subject of the sermon will be "The Last Coming Harvest." Special organ and choir music will be rendered.

SUPREME COURT OPENS ON MONDAY

The December term of the supreme court for Ulster county will open in the court house next Monday with Justice William P. Ruud presiding. On the civil calendar are 129 cases, of which three are preferred. A large number of the actions are cases which have been on previous calendars.

The preferred cases are those of George E. Green against Vincent Quinn and the American Bond Co., Clara Di Benedetto by guardian against the Standard Oil Co. of New York. The first case is an action on contract in connection with a liquor tax bonds and the other suits are for alleged negligence.

The grand jury which will be convened at this term of court will have little to do. The number of cases to come before it is the smallest in seven or eight years. There has been a marked decrease in crime since the practical completion of the Ashokan and Catskill aqueduct.

Only three persons have so far been bound over to the grand jury. The only prisoner in the county jail whose case is to be considered is Charles Newkirk, a youth, who was committed by a justice of the town of New Paltz on a charge of horse stealing. Minnie Mae Brighton of Ellenville faces a charge of bigamy. She is alleged to have married a man in that village while her first husband, whom she wedded in Orange county, was living. She became a bride again, she says, on the strength of a letter from a friend stating her first husband was dead. Mrs. Brighton, after spending a few days in jail, was released into the custody of her attorney. The third case to come before the grand jury is that of Benjamin Weisberg, charged with assault in the second degree. He is alleged to have attacked a woman on Broadway with a penknife.

SPECIAL TERMS TWICE A MONTH

The appellate division has announced the trial and special terms in the third judicial department for the year 1916. No term has been omitted, and every county is served as it has been for several years when the district had four and sometimes five trial justices.

The only change in special terms is the transfer of the term heretofore held in Hudson to Kingston. As a result, Kingston will have special terms the first and third Saturdays of every month, except in July and August. Heretofore there has been one special term a month in Kingston, that on the first Saturday of the month.

The designation of Justice Cochrane by the governor to the appellate division of this department, leaves but three trial justices in this district, Justice Chester, Ruud and Harbrouck. It has been expected that this would probably result in the omission of some of the trial terms in certain of the counties of the district, because of the inability of the trial justices who are left to do the work.

The assignments of trial terms and special terms made by the appellate division, it is understood, are in accordance with the wishes of the trial justices. These show that they are determined that the judicial business of the district shall not suffer by reason of the situation which confronts them. They show also that the justices have not called upon the appellate division for help from other districts, but have taken all the work upon themselves.

First Monday, March, Harbrouck; first Monday, May, Chester; second Monday, October, Harbrouck; first Monday, December, Ruud.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Dec. 4.—A delegation composed of fifteen members of Wawarsing Chapter, R. A. M., motored to Kingston on Wednesday evening and were royally entertained as guests of Mt. Herib Chapter of Kingston. After an excellent dinner at the Eagle Hotel, the visiting members were escorted to the lodge rooms, where the Royal Arch Degree was worked. Following this session, an elegant spread was served to the visitors and on breaking up at 2 a. m. Thursday, voted the Mt. Herib Chapter royal entertainers.

We learn of the safe arrival in San Francisco, Cal., of Mr. and Mrs. M. Eugene Clark, who, with Mrs. Mayo B. Lyon, have been taking in the sights, during the last days of the great exposition.

Noted over the mountain to Pine Bush on a business trip on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. John A. Tice, who recently underwent an operation is convalescing at her home on Cedar street. Mrs. Edward Eckert, who has been at the Benedictine Sanitarium at Kingston, is improving finely, following an operation at that place.

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Wednesday, Dec. 8, with Mrs. Van Kirk, on Canal street. The subject will be "Mothers," as this is the annual mothers' meeting, and a fine program will be given. A full attendance is requested.

Rev. W. H. Moser will begin another series of lectures on Sunday evening at the M. E. Church on the "Great Reformers." His subject for the coming Sunday evening will be "Savonarola."

The Woman's Club will meet on Monday next with Mrs. George B. Holmes.

Methodists Defeat Baptists.

Friday evening another match game in the Y. M. C. A. Church. Bowling League was rolled on the association alleys when the representatives of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church defeated the representatives of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church by a score of 1,917 to 1,679 pins.

The summary:

The Geese and the Cranes. The Geese and the Cranes fed in the same meadow. A birdcatcher came to ensnare them in his nets. The Cranes being light of wing, flew away at his approach; while the Geese, being slower of flight and heavier in their bodies, were captured.—From Aesop's Fables.

Unspeakable. The feelings of a man who lends a $2,000 auto to a friend who lets it get smashed to smithereens in a collision are of the things unspeakable. Especially when the borrower is financially unable to "make good."

Another Name for It. "Your remarks are ill-timed," said the landlady to the frivolous boarder. "You should remember there is a time for everything." "Yes," replied the f. b., "and that is all the time in this joint, but I never did care for hash."

ADMIRE NAP LAJOIE

Hard to Outguess Frenchman When He Was at His Best.

Malachi Kittredge, Veteran Catcher, Relates Two Anecdotes to Illustrate Point—Knocked Hill Out of the Big League.

If Napoleon Lajoie has an admirer among the baseball men of the past and present it is Malachi Kittredge, the veteran catcher, who now is making his residence in Cleveland. According to Kittredge it was almost impossible to outguess the Frenchman when the latter was at his best. To illustrate his argument Kittredge relates two anecdotes.

"When I was with Washington we had a left-hander named Jacobson," he said. "One day when we were playing Cleveland he told us before we took the field that he had solved Lajoie's weakness."

"What is it?" we asked.

"A curve ball rather slow," he told us. "Larry came up with three on. Jacobson gave him that slow curve rather low. Larry swung. Away went the ball over Charley Jones' head. It hit the old center field fence out on Dunham avenue, bounded back and hit Jones on the head, knocking him down."

"Say," said Jones when he came in when the inning was over, "if when you pitch Larry's weakness to him and he hits it so hard it knocks an outfielder down after it hits the fence I'd hate to be playing center if you pitched one in his groove."

"Then there was a Hunter Hill. We had him on third base. The third sackers used to play a short left field when Nap Lajoie came to bat, and so did Hill the first few games he played against Cleveland. Larry of course took advantage of it and used to lay many a one down and beat it to first. This got Hill sore and he came to us one day and announced he had studied Larry and could tell by his movements when the Frenchman intended to bunt.

"He won't fool me any more," said Hill. "I have him pegged and you'll see me right on top of the plate by the time the ball leaves the bat."

"He did it all right and Larry bounded one off his knee into the third base bleachers. Larry got a home run and Hill did not put a uniform on again for five weeks. In fact that blow he got practically put him out of the big league."

REMEMBERED THE GLASS BAR

McGovern Couldn't Recall Name of Saloon Where He Pawned Watch, But Thought of Fishes.

Terry McGovern was in St. Paul with a theatrical troupe along about 1902 or so. That was after the Irish terror had lost his title to Young Corbett. Terry was far from right, either mentally or physically.

McGovern didn't have much money to spend; in fact, he was treated somewhat in the manner of a child. It was while playing in St. Paul that the show was canceled and Terry taken to a sanitarium.

One afternoon McGovern and some hangers-on were drinking in a saloon in Robert street. Underneath the bar and running its entire length was a glass tank filled with fish.

Running out of funds, McGovern soaked his watch—not in the tank, but with the owner of the place—in order that he and his newly made friends might imbibe more of the wares of the joint.

Some time after leaving St. Paul McGovern desired to redeem his watch and sent a letter to St. Paul, making inquiries about his timepiece. This is the way the letter was addressed: "To the Saloon Where the Fishes Are, St. Paul."

Baseball in Mexico.

John McCloskey, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has been selected by General Carranza of Mexico to organize a baseball league in that country, according to reports.

He Liked It All.

Johnnie, aged five, liked to go to his grandma's to dinner. One day one of his aunts said to him, "Johnnie, I think the only reason why you like to eat here is because of the dessert you are sure to get."

"Oh, no," said Johnnie. "I like the dinner too."

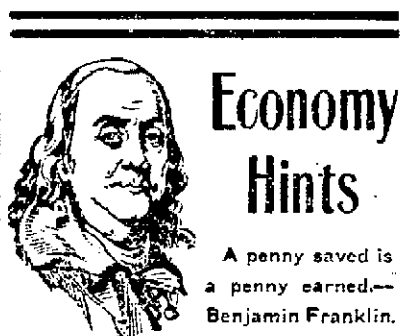

NEW FRENCH PORTABLE STRETCHER.

©INTL. FILM SERVICE.

FRENCH ADOPT NEW PORTABLE STRETCHER.

New French Stretcher in Use.

The picture shows the latest form of French stretcher in use at the front for transporting the wounded. The stretcher is fitted with appliances by means of which it can be placed on a barrow. The wounded can be brought directly from the trenches in this manner without being changed from one stretcher to another, making it more comfortable for the wounded man and rendering him less liable to exertion, which in the case of the badly wounded, often proves fatal.

Economy Hints

A penny saved is a penny earned.—Benjamin Franklin.

THE finish of the woodwork and walls of the house is part of its permanent equipment which plays an important role in its general attractiveness and the ease with which it can be taken care of. Woodwork of the baseboards, doors, window casings, etc., should be easy to dust and wash. This means round corners and no elaborate moldings. Whether or not such surfaces should be painted or stained and varnished depends partly upon how good the wood is and partly upon personal taste. As a general rule, varnished woodwork is easier to keep in order than painted, but paint covers up poor wood better and can be used in lighter colors, a point which is often in its favor in rooms where there is insufficient light or where a "light" treatment in color and furnishings is desired. Good enamel mixed with the last coat of paint prolongs its life and makes it easier to clean.

For floors, paint is less durable and harder to clean than well finished waxed varnish, but if the boards are old and rough it would probably be better to paint them. Carpets or matting tacked down close around the baseboard may be warmer in winter than rugs which do not cover the whole floor, but they are less desirable, because it is so difficult to take them up and clean them. Not only must the tacks be removed from the carpet, but their larger size makes them more difficult to handle than rugs. For months they remain full of dust and dirt which flies into the air when they are walked on, and for this reason they are very unsanitary. If a floor is too bad for ordinary rugs, it is better to paint it and then lay down a carpet rug large enough to cover all but the edges than to tack a carpet over the whole floor. For the floors of kitchens, bathrooms and passageways which must be washed frequently some material less absorbent than wood is desirable. Cement is sometimes used for back entries, pantries, etc., but it is hard and cold underfoot for the kitchen. Good, heavy linoleum is perhaps as satisfactory as anything for kitchen, laundry and bathroom, as it is comfortable underfoot, easy to clean and very durable. Oilcloth is cheaper, but not so durable.

PLAY GARMENTS.

How the Romper and the Jumper Have Become Invaluable.

Play garments in the sense in which they are known in this country find no place in the French collection. Such practical affairs as the romper and the jumper are American in origin and to a very great degree in use also. Like many styles that in the course of time are adopted by the Parisiennes, the romper made its French debut on the American child. It can hardly be said to have universal vogue, but nothing has been advanced of recent years that has approached it for utilitarian service.

Pinafores have been discarded by most American mothers, but in certain of the foreign countries they retain their old-time vogue and are offered in many interesting fabrics and styles. The smock of the working classes has been taken as the model for latter day aprons designed for children, and while originally it was meant to wear over the frock, it gradually was lengthened, the opening down the front became a seam and the erstwhile pinafore was graduated into the dress ranks for little folk.

Many mothers in planning the wardrobes for their children buy an extra quantity of material so that bloomers may be made to go with the washable dresses. This is an excellent idea, since it helps to reduce the laundry bills.

In many instances the bloomers are cut on circular lines, because this gives more breadth and consequent ease to the active small girl or boy. Moreover, the extra fullness does away with the necessity of petticoats, since the folds of the bloomer serve to hold out the dress skirt.

This year there are interesting checks, plaids and stripes in washable materials especially designed with reference to the dress wants of the younger generation. The better quality will wash without fear of running or of shrinking in any marked degree. With the shepherd checks in ginghams, linens and cotton voiles are sometimes combined plain linens in old blue, rose pink or light blue.

How to Make the Summer Bungalow Look Cool and Dainty.

Dainty hangings of printed cotton in the cool combination of blue and white have long been a favorite selection for the summer bungalow or cottage, and long has been felt the need of a rug that would carry out this cool color scheme. A shop which makes a specialty of showing Japanese goods had on exhibition rugs of various sizes in a charmingly covered oriental design. The design, carried out on a white background, was a blue and white ground in different shades of blue. No, they did not look like bath mats, but evidently they are made on the same looms.

KNEW ALL THEIR TRICKS.

Frederick the Great Proved It to His Cavalry Officers.

"Gentlemen," said Frederick the Great after a review of his troops, "I am entirely dissatisfied with the cavalry. The regiments are completely out of hand. There is no accuracy, no order. The men ride like tailors. I beg that this may not occur again and that each of you will pay more attention to his duty, but I know how things go on. You think I am not up to your dodges, but I know them all and will recantulate them."

"When the season for riding drill comes on the captain sends for the sergeant major and says: 'I have an appointment this morning at —. Tell the first lieutenant to take the rides.' So the sergeant major goes to the senior subaltern and gives him the message, and the latter says: 'What! The captain will be away? Then I am off hunting. Tell the second lieutenant to take the men.' And the second lieutenant, who is probably still in bed, says: 'What both of them away? Then I will stay where I am. I was up till 3 this morning at a dance. Tell the cornet I am ill and he must take the rides.' Finally the cornet remarks: 'Look here, sergeant major, what is the good of my standing out there in the cold? You know all about it much better than I do. You go and take them.'

"And so it goes, and what must be the end of it all? What can I hope to do with such cavalry before the enemy?"—"History of Frederick the Great."

The Climax.

"We had a bad accident the last time we were out motoring." "What was it?" "We were so unfortunate as to knock down a man and fracture his skull—" "That was bad." "But that wasn't the unfortunate part of it. The man was holding a sharp knife in his hand, and the point of it punctured our tire."

Moral—Keep Advertising.

"What's your business, stranger?" "I'm a business doctor. I doctor-up a business that happens to be ailing. What's your business?" "Well, if you're a business doctor I guess you might call me a business undertaker. I'm the sheriff."

Farmers Own Much Standing Timber.

The quantity of standing timber now owned by the farmers of the United States reaches a huge total. It is estimated to exceed 250 billion feet of saw timber and one and a third billion cords of cordwood.

MR. & MRS. HENRY FORD

PEACE PROPAGANDIST AND HELPMATE.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, Photographed at the Hotel Biltmore, N. Y. Although Mrs. Ford is not to accompany her husband's peace party on the Oscar II, she has been active in the arrangements for the expedition, however, and heartily endorses the plans of her husband.

COUGHING AND SPITTING.

The Way Disease Is Spread and How It Could Be Avoided.

The dangerous and dirty habit of careless spitting, coughing and sneezing is without doubt the most costly carelessness that civilized society indulges in. The saying, "No spit, no consumption," is literally true, and this means that consumption would be largely avoided if this habit could be abolished.

It has been shown by careful scientific experiments that in the act of coughing or sneezing, unless a handkerchief or other object is held in front of the nose and mouth, microscopic particles of saliva and nasal secretion are discharged into the air in which, even in a quiet room, may be carried a distance of from ten to fifty yards from the place where they were expelled. Many of these droplets can be seen if one will cough or sneeze in front of a mirror or window pane. Most of them, however, are too small to be visible to the naked eye. One can now readily understand how very impolite it is to cough or sneeze without holding a handkerchief in front of his face, for such a person literally spits on objects and people, perhaps on food, within a distance of from ten to fifty yards about him.

The germs of tuberculosis, diphtheria and perhaps grip, colds, pneumonia, whooping cough, measles and scarlet fever are conveyed through expectoration. Many perfectly healthy people not suffering from the disease carry the germs of pneumonia and diphtheria and other contagious diseases in their mouths and throats. It becomes necessary that not only recognizably sick people shall desist from careless spitting, but that the apparently well, who may be "germ carriers," should also be careful in expectorating.

Towns and cities should make their anti-spitting laws more than jokes. As a matter of fact, they should not pass such an ordinance until they are ready to enforce it. From a health point of view anti-spitting ordinances are not to be lightly regarded. They should be serious laws, and the violation of them should be made more than a joke.

In southern Italy there are some 20,000 persons living in ten villages who speak the Greek language.

ENGLISH WORDS.

They Are, Asserts a Critic, Both Ugly and Unmusical.

"On the whole, owing partly to the enormous proportion of monosyllables, partly to the prevalence of sibilant and dental sounds, the words of the English language are overwhelmingly ugly and unmusical." As proof of this assertion, Charles Leonard Moore adduces in "Incense and Iconoclasm" a long list of commonly used names of things that in our language are rather bad than good.

"Ocean" is grandly mouth filling and pictorial, but "sea" is ignoble, "air" at least questionable, "sky" weak and thin. The clipped dissyllable "heaven" is decidedly poor. "Firmament," however, is magnificent and "paradise" fine. "Earth," "sun," "stars" are three low, plebeian symbols for the total splendors of the visible world.

Turn to the words describing man's own person. "Face," "eyes," "nose," "mouth," "legs," Mr. Moore thinks a simple commodity of vile names. As for man's possessions, it is to be hoped that Adam had better taste than to call his cave a "house." "Mansion" or "palace" might do. "Garden," "valley," "forest" are good. "Metropolitan" is fine and gave Keats an excellent line—"Upon the gold clouds metropolitan"—but "city" is affected and "town" intolerable.

For the sound of most of our verbs Mr. Moore has a criticism as harsh, and it is only our adjectives that he praises, and then cautiously. "August" "splendid," "noble," "gorgeous," "magnificent," "graceful," "indomitable"—these he thinks really patriotic among the vulgar rabble of our other words.

Premonitions.

Patriotic Belligerent—"How are you going to describe and comment on this affair?" Press Writer—"I am going to tell you all important facts and put the blame where it belongs." Patriotic Belligerent—"There: I knew all the time that you were bitterly prejudiced against us!"—Longville Leader.

Mental Disturbance.

"Did the alienist prove that you were crazy?" "No," replied the defendant, "but he admitted that he was nearly so before the lawyer got through with him."

MISS VIRGINIA LOS KAMP.

At the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Monday evening, Dec. 6, the concert which has been looked forward to with so much interest by Kingston people. At this time will appear Miss Los Kamp, contralto; Mr. Heuse, tenor; and Mr. Hummel, violinist. The concert will begin at 8:15; the doors will open at 7:45.

PREPARE EARLY

Don't wait until your roomer has gone to start advertising the room in the Want Columns, but just as soon as he, or she, lets you know they are going to leave, run a little Want Ad, stating that your room will be vacant on such a date and describing it and giving the price.

The result of this early preparation will be that your room will not be vacant a single day, for the new roomer will step in the door as soon as the old one goes out.

Prepare for filling an empty room by means of The Freeman Want Ads.

HOSPITAL AFFAIRS.

Correspondent Asks Some Questions Worthy of Consideration.

The following letter has been received by The Freeman from a prominent resident of this city:

Kingston, Dec. 4, 1915.

Editor Freeman.

Sir—Now that hospital affairs are uppermost in our minds, perhaps a little information regarding same would not be out of order.

It is the belief of the writer that the public generally are interested, yet often ask themselves pertinent questions, among which are the following:

1. Does anyone believe that the hospital is well located to fulfill its mission?

2. Is it not poor business to enlarge same, assuming this is the intention of the management when the most important feature of location is lacking?

3. If enlargement is necessary and important, why not begin all over with a new plant, proper location and other features necessary and desirable for future demands?

Yours truly,

SUBSCRIBER.

Cattle Die of Poison.

Walter Dennison of South Fallsburgh, Sullivan county, lost a valuable cow and two heifers by poison this week in a peculiar manner. Last fall the potatoes on the Dennison farm were sprayed and an empty pail with the dregs of the poison in it was left in the field. The cow and calves found this pail and licked it out last Sunday.

Tonight's Games.

Stamford at Elizabeth; Brooklyn at Pateron.

With the aid of a bewildering assortment of plays the Kingston basketball team, were able to hold the last Pateron quintet without a field basket in the second half of a rip-and-tuck struggle, thereby winning the tilt by a score of 20 to 18.

This makes the second game won by the locals in as many days. Had they not suffered defeat at the hands of Brooklyn last Saturday, Morgen's players would be leading the league.

With the score in the locals' favor after five minutes of the first half had been played, the visitors gradually crept up, until they had more points hung on the score board than the locals, who were unable to force the sphere, against the quid defensive playing of Downey's quintet. When the gong sounded ending the half, Kingston was on the small end of a 15 to 9 score.

In the last half, however, honors went to Kingston. The local players solved the floor work of Pateron and made eleven points, while great defensive plays on the part of Kingston held the Crescents with a field basket, they scoring only three points on foul shots, out of fourteen tries.

Perfect execution of numerous complicated plays, was what gave Kingston the advantage on the offensive in the last half. The players were bound to break through and get near the basket, with the result that they were generally fouled, as nine of their eleven points in the half were scored on shots from the foul line.

Wachter was the man upon whose shoulder's was placed the burden of carrying off the game, and "Brother Ed" came through with a rush, his playing being so fast, that the Pateron men were called upon to foul him twice in succession, with only three minutes to go, and the score in Pateron's favor, 18 to 17. On his first trip to the foul line Wachter tied the score, and on the second trip with two minutes left, he placed Kingston in the lead. To Henschel fell the honor of closing the scoring, he making a point on Harvey's foul. The game ended with Barger shooting from the foul line, this being his eighth chance, he failing to score a point on all his tries.

Young Centrals Win.

The Young Centrals defeated the Young Eagles in a game of basketball at Washington Hall Thursday night by the overwhelming score of 50 to 7.

The game was a very poor one as the Centrals were too fast for the Eagles and the Eagles were outclassed in every department of the game. Kiernan, the Centrals' fast guard, dropped the ball in from every angle of the floor and was carried off the floor after the game by his well known admirers. Line-up and summary as follows:

THREE CONTESTS AT BASKETBALL

In Another of Series of Popular Saturday Nights in Young Men's Building—Indoor Baseball Game Played.

Another of the series of Popular Saturday Nights will be held this evening at the Y. M. C. A., when three fast games of basketball will be staged. The public is cordially invited to attend and no admission will be charged. These events are attracting considerable attention and those who enjoy basketball are afforded a fine opportunity of witnessing some fast clean games.

The first game is slated for 7:30 o'clock when the Student B team will clash with the Peerless A. C. Two games in the Y. M. C. A. Church Basketball League will also be played that evening. In the first game Trinity M. E. Church will play the Albany Avenue Baptist Church and in the second game the Holy Cross Church representatives will play the Holy Grail.

Church Indoor Baseball League.

On Wednesday evening another game in the Y. M. C. A. Church Indoor Baseball League was played at the association when the Trinity M. E. Church team badly defeated the Church of the Holy Spirit by a score of 42 to 5. The Methodist players were Gregory, Boice, Hillis, H. Beckwith, Voight, C. D. Beckwith and Giles, while their opponents were Murray, Van Buren, Black, O. Short, Katz and J. Short.

Employed Boy's League.

The basketball games in the employed boy's league on Wednesday resulted as follows:

Team No. 1, Captain McArdle, 7; Team No. 2, Captain McHugh, 4.

Team No. 3, Captain McCann, 11; Team No. 4, Captain Rhymet, 7.

Team No. 5, Captain Carpenter, 7; Team No. 6, Captain Williams, 13.

At the present time Captain McArdle's team leads the league, having won 6 games and lost none. The team of Captain McCann is second and Captain Williams' team is third. Teams 5, 4 and 2 follow in the order named.

Evening worship at 7:30; subject of sermon, "Faith and Work."

The Rev. J. H. Moore, pastor of the Free Methodist Church of Kingston, will preach Sunday at 3 p. m. at Sleightsburgh Chapel. Brother Moore delivered a powerful sermon last Sunday. It was one long to be remembered. Come and hear this wonderful preacher. Special singing by Miss Hogan and Mr. and Mrs. Low of Kingston.

"Corpse" Raises Objection.

While John Halcott and Charles Flowers of Arkville were laying out the body of Christopher Long, 93 years old, preparatory for the coffin, one of them stepped on the foot of the "corpse" and was greatly startled to hear "Hey there, clumsy, get off my feet." Mr. Long has been a sufferer from heart trouble and that day his daughter, Mrs. John Beadle, with whom he resides, noticed that he suddenly settled down in his chair and apparently lifeless. She called in the two men who are neighbors, to assist in getting the body ready for the coffin. Last reports indicate that Mr. Long was as well as usual and had recovered from the attack.

Will Organize Farmers.

A resolution providing for a central body for the purpose of organizing co-operative farmers' societies throughout the United States, covering every phase of agriculture was adopted at the closing session of the National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credit in Chicago.

Brewers May Ban Gambling.

Helpful Hints for Christmas Gifts!

More people will do their Christmas shopping early this year than ever before. By all means, buy the largest items early, and pick up the knickknacks later.

WHAT COULD YOU BUY

That would be of better value or more serviceable than a nice pair of wool blankets? We were fortunate in securing another shipment of those superfine wool blankets direct from the factory, every one well worth a five dollar bill, selling this week for $4.50 pair; other good values, too, at $1.50, $1.97, $2.97, $3.97.

THE NEWLYWEDS AND

the has-been-weds, and all the folks at home, like a home that's homelike. Nothing like a new rug to brighten up the sitting room, dining room or any other room in the house. We like to show rugs, and if you like to look at pretty rugs, just say "Rugs" to anybody in our store and they will gladly escort you to the rug department, where you will find little rugs and big rugs at the right prices.

HOW ABOUT CUT GLASS?

Certainly everybody likes cut glass. You couldn't make a mistake if you tried, because every piece is useful as well as ornamental: Pitchers, Bowls, Cruets, Tumblers, Vases, Sugar and Creams, Celery Dishes, Fern Dishes, etc.

WHERE'S MY BATH ROBE?

It may be hanging on our rack this week, but somebody's going to get some bath robes this year for Christmas. We hope you'll get one of ours, because everybody says they are the finest ever. If you already have one, suppose you know somebody who hasn't. What's the price? Oh, yes, $3.50, $3.97, $4.50 and $4.97. Put one aside until Christmas week? Certainly. Thank you.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE FURS.

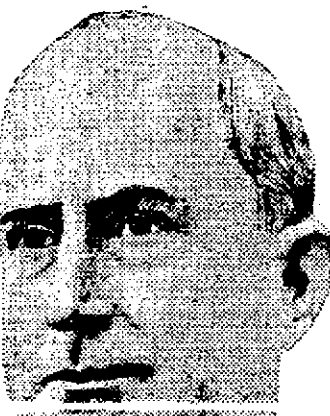

For a Christmas present? If anyone dares ask you, you, you wouldn't say, no, unless you already have a nice set. If you only want a muff, just say the word, if we can't sell a whole set, we'll gladly sell a muff and guarantee the money's worth everytime.

WISH I HAD A WORK BASKET.

"All right, you shall have one for Christmas. Just pick out the one you like best, etc." That's the talk we like to hear, and frequently do hear around Christmas time. Yes, they are pretty, let us show them.

BOTTOM—SEN ATILES POMERENE

IN FIGHT FOR PRESIDENCY PRO TEM OF SENATE.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Senator Atiles Pomerene of Ohio has become a candidate for president pro tem of the senate, in opposition to Senator James P. Clarke of Arkansas, who seeks re-election. The candidacy of the Ohio senator, announced after a session of the Senate Democratic caucus, assures a lively contest.

Opposition to Senator Clarke has been smoldering ever since the Democratic conference began last Monday, because of his antagonism to the ship purchase bill at the last session. Administration leaders had sought to allay this opposition for the sake of party harmony, but were not successful.

A Patriotic Service.

A special military and patriotic service will be held in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Wurts street on Sunday evening. "Company M. officers and men, will attend in a body. Members of the G. A. R., Spanish-American war veterans, members of the Old Vets' Guard and all soldiers and sailors who have served the colors are especially invited. The chaplain of the Tenth Regiment Infantry, N. G. N. Y., the Rev. Howard E. Snyder, will preach. Special music has been provided by Prof. A. H. Snyder. The patriotic public of Kingston and vicinity is invited to this service.

Ulster Park Grange Election.
Ulster Park, Dec. 4.—At the last meeting of the Ulster Park Grange, Richard J. Gardner was elected purchasing agent. Unlike the other officers, whose terms begin with the calendar year, the purchasing agent takes office immediately on election and Mr. Gardner is on the job. It is important that members interested in giving orders for the carload of coal, for which a number of orders have already been taken, should send their orders to Mr. Gardner at once.
